

Fund Reading!

Would you like to earn money and promote reading at the same time? Why not join the Fund Reading program? Children's author Emily Chetkowski will visit your school and do a presentation for only $100* to any school wishing to take part. Parents can purchase copies of Emily's books with $2 from each book sold coming right back to the school.

Emily offers many presentations for all grades, based on her various books. Before each presentation, schools will receive order forms to be sent home with the kids.

Emily's books include Mabel Takes the Ferry and Mabel Takes a Sail, true stories about her adventuresome Tibetan Terrier dog Mabel, who sometimes accompanies her on school visits and performs her tricks for the kids; Pumpkin Smile, geared for the primary grades, about losing your front teeth and making the best of it; Amasa Walker's Splendid Garment, an historical non-fiction book appropriate for early American history; Just A Kid, A Guard at the Nuremberg Trials which is based on her father's memories of his experience as Sergeant of the American Courtroom Guard at the first Nuremberg trial and his dealings with Hitler's top officers; and her latest release, a chapter book called Sister Sluggers, a girls sports story about a summer of playing softball and sibling rivalry.

Described as an enthusiastic, and personable speaker who knows how to relate to her audience, Emily has been touring schools in New England for over 10 years. Students are sure to remember a visit and will enjoy personally autographed keepsakes to take home. Schools may also incorporate Emily's time into a literacy night or family fun day.

So stop bemoaning your dwindling budget and start booking events that MAKE you money.

* Travel charges may apply for travel over 30 miles.
